Just past the bridge

Fish below the bridge

Go Down and Across

To access the deeper water

Only thigh deep

Follow the Greenway Downstream

When you come to this marker

Go down to the river

One path on left

Another a little farther along the Greenway

Deep Run on the Far Side

There was a shoal (gravel bar) in the middle of the river

Access is down stream from this photo and back up

There is a BIG rock upstream to the left

Thayer Park Access

New steps to the water

Seems like BRTU is not the only one with wash outs

Thayer Park Access

Except for the last two or three granite blocks to the left, these are normally out of the water

The seam you see almost always holds fish

Heavily fished

I normally walk the Greenway downstream a good ways and start looking for paths down to the water

Riverside Park

Park close to the bridge

Bridge separates Supported from Delayed Harvest (Upstream/Downstream)

Follow the Greenway downstream

You're getting close when you see this marker

The Beach is only another curve ahead

The Beach

I think this is a summertime swimming hole

The Beach

Head of pool

The Beach

Long deep run on the far side
